Truth About Granite Fund

Dear Fellow Member of the MIA:

The granite marketplace is being threatened by people who want to scare consumers away from natural stone. To defend the natural stone industry, we need financial contributions from every segment of the industry—quarriers, fabricators, installers, restoration specialists, and distributors, domestic and international – and we need them now. It is important to show those backing the ugly campaign to tarnish the reputation of granite that we are serious about protecting the natural stone industry. It is equally important to assure the consuming public that granite is as safe as it is beautiful, durable, and practical. MIA needs your help now.
